ABOUT ME

I am the author behind "Go Ask Your Daddy, a blogging tips, product review, and parenting blog. Aside from blogging, I am a daddy of 4 kids 10 and under, a tenured pianist, and a manager by day.

I hold an MBA from Tiffin University and an undergraduate degree in Spanish from the University of West Georgia. I am passionate about helping other bloggers excel with their blogs, as well as providing parenting tips and hacks I've learned from my experience as a dad.

GOASKYOURDADDY.COM BLOG

My blog focuses on smart and effective ways to master the art of blogging so that bloggers just like me can reap the benefits of a well-balanced income. I've picked up a lot of tips and tricks along the way as I have grown as a blogger. Some of these tips and tricks come from things I've learned from other bloggers, while others come from raw experience on my own.

I remember when I started Go Ask Your Daddy that there were SO MANY additional factors I had never considered. It's easy to get lost in all of the steps necessary to get your blog off the ground. I take pride in talking about these things and enjoy helping other bloggers remove roadblocks that are preventing them from growing.
